GCWCC
CCMTGC

Federal retirees – your community still needs you.

In 2011, across Canada, federal retirees like you gave more than two and a half million dollars through the Government of Canada Workplace Charitable Campaign (GCWCC) to help people in their communities.

The GCWCC provides a simple, efficient way to support United Way, Healthpartners and any other registered Canadian charities that are close to your heart through one form, once a year, even after you retire.

When you give through the GCWCC, your gift changes lives.

It provides real inspiration for people like Jim who, diagnosed at 58 with Alzheimer's, decided to face his disease head-on and help both himself and others like him. He now serves on the National Board of Directors for the Alzheimer Society.

It provides a vital connection for people like Ceceline, who, alone at 81, no longer withdraws from life. Instead, she relishes new experiences and eagerly anticipates and participates in outings and social events at her local seniors' centre.

There are thousands of others who need your help today. If you have not yet made your gift please call 1-877-379-6070.

Thank you – Canada's federal retirees – for your continued generosity and caring.

Be a star in someone's life.
Support your GCWCC.

George Grande
GCWCC Retiree Campaign Supporter
and federal retiree since 1979

Robert Morin
GCWCC Cabinet Member for Retirees
and federal retiree since 2004

To learn how you can give through pension deduction and how your GCWCC gift will impact others, please call 1-877-379-6070 or visit the www.gcwcc.org website. Thank you.

This campaign is managed by United Way/Centraide on behalf of the Treasury Board of Canada.

00063-I1-201301